Editing and proofreading

We have a team of professional proof-readers who ensure all translations are free of spelling, grammatical and linguistic errors. Our Quality Assurance systems have proven effective in ensuring that our clients stay on our client list. We believe that the quality of our translations starts with the quality of our translators. We have therefore developed a screening process that ensures that we only recruit highly skillful translators that add value to our professional language translation services, they are ready to perform a wide range of translation services including texts that require extensive knowledge. You can rely on Curio Translations to translate and proofread your documents minutely from internal memos to international manuals with very competitive prices

Transcription

Offering fast and precise audio transcription services, converting the spoken language into a written form. Upon listening to your recording, we will appoint transcribers specializing in the required subject matter to type out word-for-word what is being spoken. We can also subsequently translate your transcript.

Subtitling

Providing subtitling and captioning services in an efficient way of making an audio or video universally applicable. Our linguistic experts effectively study and analyze every audio and visual input during the content creation process. They then create quality subtitles by replacing words in the original document with a synonym that expresses the same feeling. Thus, the translated subtitles which we offer communicate the original message without changing its meaning.
